

Proclamation Song

(by Lize Hadassah Wiid and Sarah Jubilee)

The wilderness and wasteland shall be glad
The desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose
It shall blossom abundantly Rejoice with joy and singing
I shall see Your glory like magnificent stars
Strengthen my weak bones Make firm my feeble knees
Help my fearful heart that I'll be fearless and fierce
The eyes of the blind shall open The ears of deaf will hear
The waters shall burst forth in the wilderness
My eyes are those of a dove
I gaze upon You with single vision
I will war and I will worship
My way through the desert
I'll die to self and I will pick up my cross
My fears will be burned I'll be tested and tried
I will not be discouraged and I'll not be dismayed
I will walk in the fullness of what You have planned
I will not compromise and I will not procrastinate
Fear will not block me My faith will pave the way
No giant will stop me from walking in my promise
I will keep on pursuing the purpose of my King
I will never give up I will remain
No enemy is able to stand in the presence of the Name
Who's authority is the highest in the heavens
I'm not unworthy nor am I inferior I'm more than a conqueror in Him who says He loves me
I will wash myself daily in the water of the Word
I'll abide in the Vine so that I can bear much fruit
I will overcome through the Blood of the Lamb
Through the word of my testimony nations will be changed
I will lay down my life forsake everything
For the purpose of the One whom my soul loves
I will journey my way to the Promised Land, I will run the race to the end

All the strongholds in my mind will be crushed and shattered
All of the wrong patterns will be broken and destroyed

I will always remember that this home is temporary Therefore I will build my life on solid foundation

Of the Great I Am Who is the Rock of ages
My heart is filled with faith and no pursuit of the serpent

Will keep me away because I choose to be part of the uncompromising generation

When I'm tested in the fire When I'm blessed in abundance
In both seasons I will seek you I will not stop seeking

And if I didn't hear Your voice in the way that I expect to
If I do not feel Your presence in the way that I want to

I will keep on seeking for You're the Lover of my soul
My desire is to know You more and more

I will not settle for lukewarmness and conform to this world
I will not live a double life as a harlot and bride

I will press in Your presence

Cause that is the place where my soul comes alive

I will seek You day and night until You come to fetch Your bride

You are my Messiah You are my Bridegroom You are the One that my life revolves around

Take me on this journey back to the Garden This end time Exodus so that I will partake of the bridal harvest of those all clothed in white Awaken and prepare me I'll be keeping my garments

Until the day You come I will be waiting Until the day You come I will be waiting

My eyes are those of a dove

I gaze upon You with single vision

I will war and I will worship

My way through the desert back to the Garden

My eyes are those of a dove

I gaze upon You with single vision

I will war and I will worship

My way through the desert back to the Garden

Until the day You come I will be waiting Until the day You come I will be waiting

Until the day You come I will be waiting Until the day You come I will be waiting

Until the day You come I will be waiting Until the day You come I will be waiting
